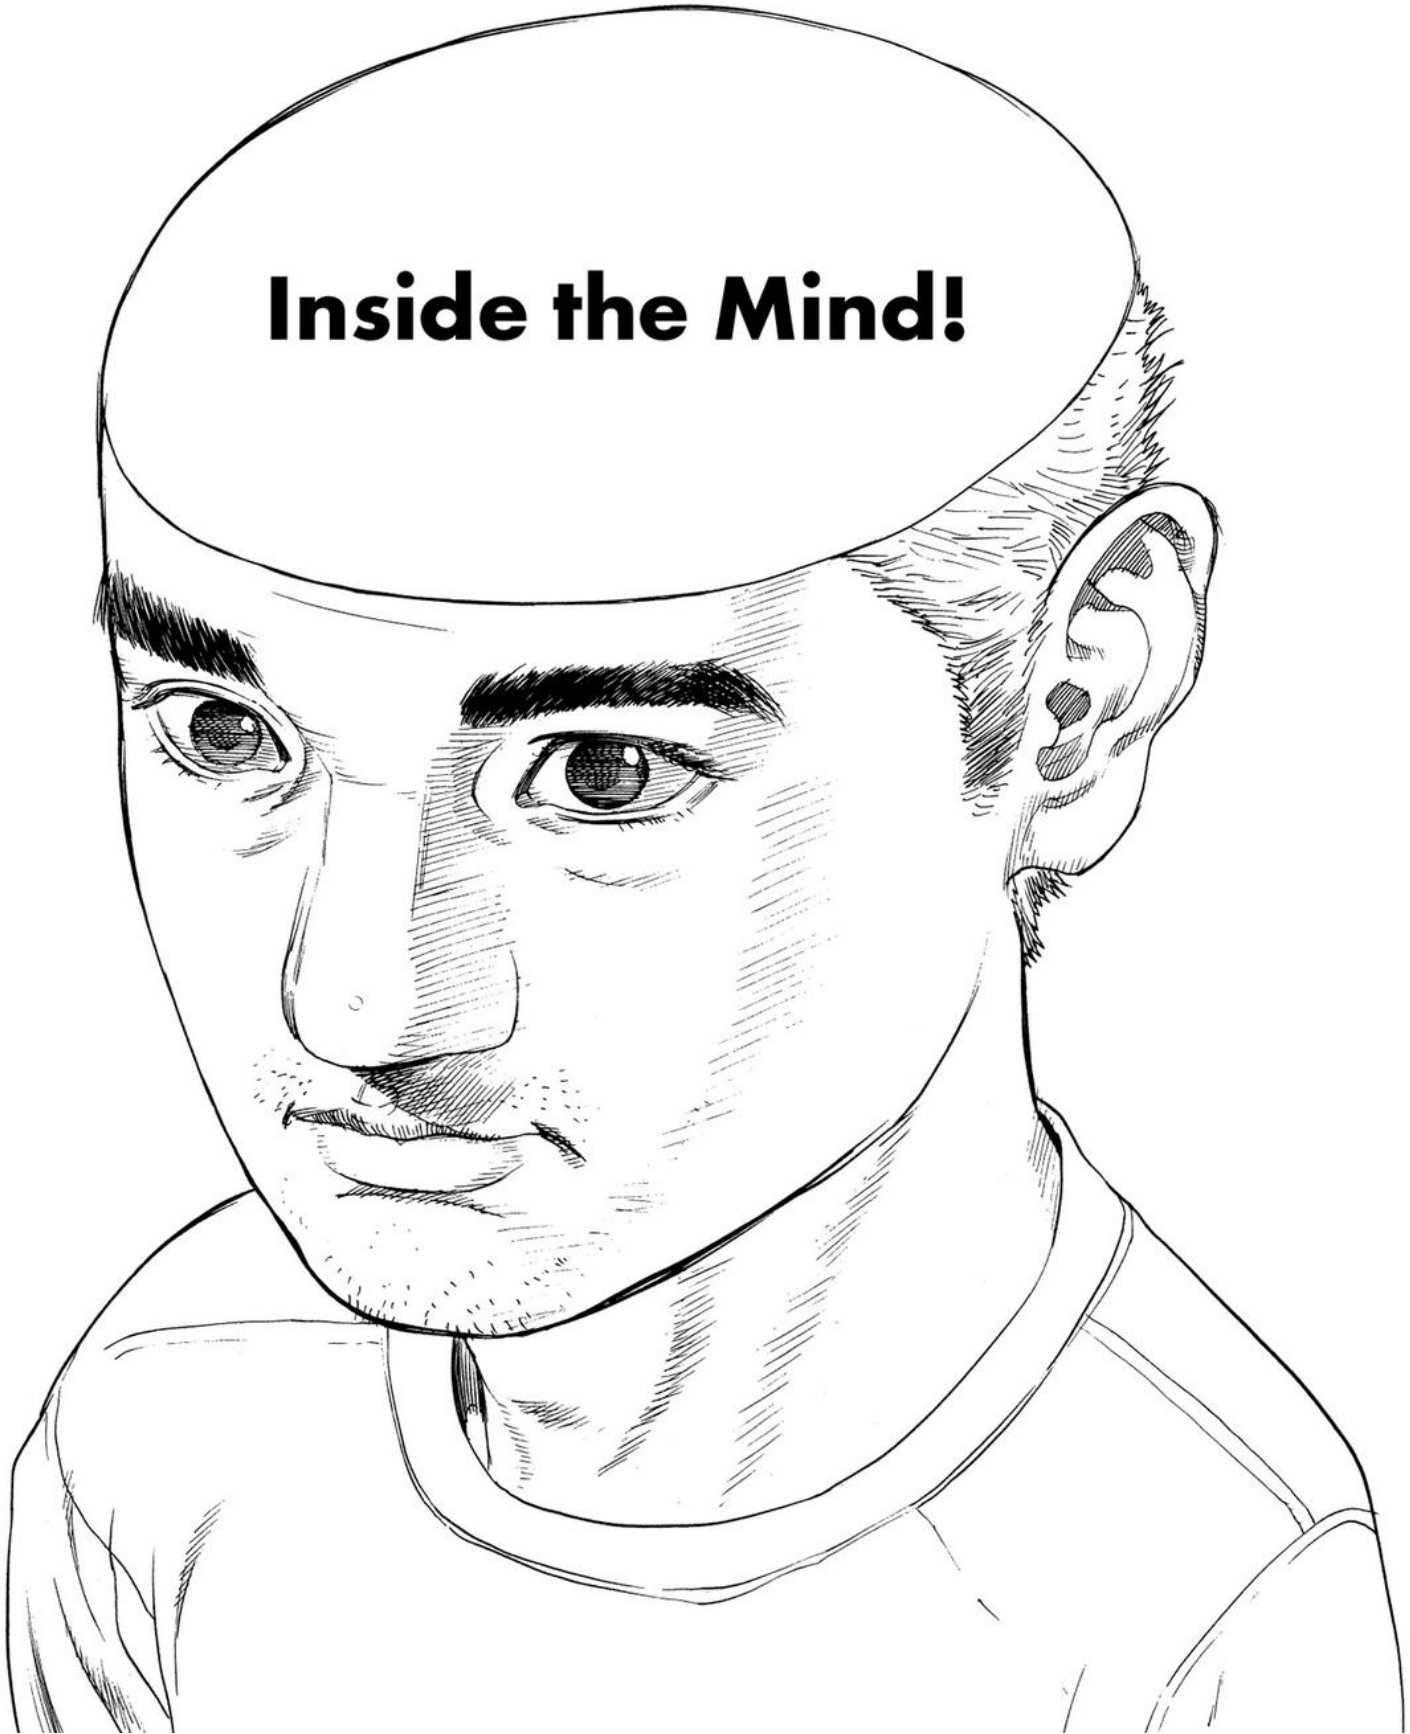
With the fabulous world Oku Hiroya has created in Gantz, you might just wonder, what are his everyday thoughts?

Just for you, he's handwritten four notepad pages of things he really wanted to let people know!



CG MANGA ARE REALLY HARD!

I included an explanation of C6 manga in the first volume of "Gantz", but it seems as though the explanation wasn't quite good enough and some people have some misconceptions, so I'll explain it one more time.

If you look at "The Making of Gantz" it should be quite clear, but I wrote that we use C6 to make the studies and then use that as the rough sketch.

We don't use this method to create more precise studies. Some of you have tried this, and I bet it didn't go as easy as you'd thought.

In the end, it's just a method to relate the characters within the space and how they're positioned against the background. It's not because C6 makes it any easier.

HAVE YOU HEARD OF CHANNEL 2?

Channel 2 is a famous Internet bulletin board. I take a look at it every once in a while, and I'm sure many other people in the manga and anime world do as well. I've never looked at anything written about "Gantz" there, though.

It would just make me depressed. Still, info turns up really quickly on the site, and it's a good way to waste time. While I don't do it, it seems as though a lot of people in the industry and anime directors do read what's written about their work. I've even heard that there are manga artists who've lost so much confidence after reading what was written about their work that they quit the business.

It's okay for someone who obtained some level of success to take a look here and there, but for anyone with just middling sales, there can be no more devastating blow.

THE DEFINITION OF ENTERTAINMENT

You hear the word "entertainment" bandied about a lot in the media, but from talking with the people around me, I've found that just about everyone has their own definition for what entertainment is. I like to think of it as something that can be enjoyed by anyone from children to adults without any special knowledge.

Some people think that things aimed at otaku and fandom are entertainment. I'm sure some people think that things that create huge buzz are entertainment as well, but I don't. I tend to think that there are very few manga that are pure entertainment. An old man like me can't make heads or tails of what they write in the shonen magazines these days.

Hollywood used to be entertainment, but it seems to have lost its way. It doesn't seem to care if something is entertaining or not. But I like entertainment.

GANTZ

I want to continue "Gantz" until the very end. Those people who have the same tastes as me probably like it. I want to bring them with me on a long journey.

I get really excited when I think about the last episode of "Gantz". I guess it's a kind of masturbation. Something like, "It's masturbation! But I'm a good guy! Shueisha! Please let me get to the end! Assistants! I'm sorry! It's going to be a tough battle, but stick with me!"

I hope I really can end it in the way I want to. It would feel wonderful.
